The UK housing market starts autumn with momentum, a post-lockdown mini-boom making summer 2020 busier than usual.

Summer sunshine

The housing market has basked in summer sunshine since it reopened in June. Buyer demand has soared, up 34% on a year ago (Zoopla), while supply to the marketplace is at its highest level since March 2008 (Rightmove). Over 81,000 property sales were recorded in August, up 15.6% on July, with competition in the market leading to one in eight properties selling at or above asking price (NAEA). Larger properties and those with gardens are proving immensely popular, the impact of COVID-19 set to have a lasting change on our home/work lifestyles.

A balancing act

The economy and consumer confidence have both shown signs of improvement throughout the summer. The economy grew by 6.6% in July (ONS); however, it remains over 11% lower than pre-lockdown while consumer sentiment continues to rise, albeit slowly. Recovery remains cautious as the government grapples with balancing the economy and public health. Stamp duty holidays across the nations offer a saving for many buyers but although interest rates remain low, a reduction in high loan-to-value lending products is impacting on first-time buyers.

Looking ahead

Properties are selling quicker than a year ago, and latest mortgage approvals suggest the market is returning to more 'normal' levels. However, the forced pause in the housing market will likely mean 2020 sales levels will be below those of 2019. albeit not as low as many feared. UK house price growth is at its highest level in over two years and revised forecasts anticipate property prices will end the year 2% higher, a significant reversal to the negative expectations anticipated as the market reopened. Interest rates are predicted to be held at 0.1% until 2022.

Tenant demand

As with the sales market, demand in the rental sector increased over the summer, although new instructions remain muted, a continuation of the pre-lockdown trend. Average rental values across the UK rose by 1.5% in the year to August, and yields remain attractive. Increased demand and a shortage of supply in many areas should help underpin rental values over the coming months. Just 13% of tenancies expire during the final quarter of the year but landlords will be keen to avoid unnecessary void periods.

The housing market is busier than many expected as we head into the autumn, homeowners keen to fulfil lifestyle changes following the COVID-19 lockdown. Opportunities exist to make savings on purchases thanks to government property taxation incentives, but with sales needing to complete by 31 March, prospective buyers should not delay.

TAXATION HOLIDAY WILL BENEFIT MANY PURCHASERS

In the wake of the COVID-19 lockdown, savings can be made across the UK

A savings boost

The property tax1 levied on a purchase can add a sizeable chunk to the purchase price. Following an announcement by the Chancellor, Rishi Sunak, of a Stamp Duty holiday in the wake of the COVID-19 lockdown, the Scottish and Welsh governments followed suit. Across the UK, buyers can make savings. First-time buyers already benefit from higher price thresholds, but the current initiatives also benefit home movers and in some cases investors. Activity levels have increased, the Bank of England reporting a significant uptick in mortgage approvals in August. The catch? Property purchases must be completed by 31 March 2021. Time is tickina.

Many buyers set to benefit

In England and Northern Ireland, first-time buyers, home movers and second homeowners/investors will all benefit from no standard property taxation on a property purchase up to £500,000, a saving of up to £15,000. The 3% surcharge for additional/ second homeowners will still be levied.

Across Scotland and Wales the starting threshold for property tax has been raised to £250,000 from £145,000 and £180,000 respectively and purchasers are set to benefit from a windfall of up to £2,450. In Scotland, a 4% Additional Dwelling Supplement will still apply if the property is a second home. In Wales only first-time buyers and home movers will benefit, second homeowners and buy-to-let investors are exempt.

Positive growth

Property prices in the North West were 4.4% higher year-on-year, across Wales 2.8% higher, as the housing market reopened in June. Fylde and West Lancashire are currently the strongest performers in the region. Activity across the UK has been brisk; Rightmove report August 2020 was the busiest month on record, with a significant rise in the number of sales of large (4+ bedroom detached) and 3-4 bedroom properties.

Number of properties for sale across the UK up 10% year-on-year (Zoopla, August).

Price it right

Homes across the UK are selling more quickly. Nationally the average time taken to sell a property fell to 53 days this August, down from 62 days in August 2019. Sensible pricing remains crucial; correctly priced properties are nearly twice as likely to be sold 'subject to contract' within four months of listing than those that have had their asking price reduced (Rightmove).

Homes in the North West are selling, on average, seven days quicker than a year ago.
